AMATEUR SPORT

With the steeplechasing picture completely removed from the Maryland scent, the members of the so-called checkered vest fraternity have only Belmont Park, Aqueduct, Delaware Park and Saratoga where they can run their horses between the flags (Arlington Park has carded and held a single hurdle race for two years). No immediate relief appears to be in sight to increase the number of major tracks which will encourage steeplechasing, in fact every year the sport meets with more and more obstacles, such as not enough money bet through the mutuels, high cost of maintaining the courses, etc. For the many veterans of the sport and the people who are becoming interested, there remains the hunt meetings.

The brush and hurdle events were concluded at the major tracks when the recent Rolling Rock meeting was held. A glance over the entries quickly revealed that an amazing number of horses were in training and a goodly number were on hand for the 2-day event. Some of the horses had been winners at the Big Apple this year while others were strictly considered to be in the hunt meeting category. However, the result was an outstanding meeting, well run and well supported.

Any one who has attended or been connected with planning and holding a hunt meeting knows that it is no amateur's job. True it is the last outpost for amateur riders but that is where the amateurism should stop. With very few exceptions the purses are small, so that even the winning owners are lucky if they can pay their vanning bills and riders. However, these people come back time after time to support a meeting but can it go on indefinitely if the meetings are not brought a little more up to date?

Bringing changes in such events is no easy job. There are so many angles to be considered that one has to be a determined person even to propose such a matter. However, when there is such a person, or persons, willing to make the attempt, such efforts should be backed to the fullest if they are to succeed. The matter of money cannot be overlooked and it is no longer possible to call on one or more people to make up the amount of money which a hunt meeting has lost. Those days are gone and apparently it is forever.

Some of the complaints about hunt meetings pertain to the matter of charts of the courses. A few of the committees provide clear and understandable charts which are posted where owners, trainers and riders can easily see them. However, other meetings do not have this information and should a rider have to be substituted at the last moment, there is no one who can give him a quick rundown of the course. Then too, some of the courses are changed from year to year and it would simplify matters greatly to have charts showing the current meeting's course.

Scratch time at Belmont is 8:30 a. m. but at the hunt meeting the public will arrive in full anticipation of seeing a top name horse go postward. The horse is listed in the program and no doubt the local papers and radio stations, plus television in some sections, have given a big play about this entry. Comes post time and even though the horse has never been on the grounds, the public doesn't know about that. All it knows is that the big horse they came to see isn't there. The main problem today is getting people interested in coming to the hunt meetings but if they are to be fooled continuously by a long list of entries in the program, then watch 4 or 5 horses go postward, they might well plan to go to a football game the next year.

Some of the courses are getting black marks because of holes or particularly rough spots. These are important items which should be taken care of as even the owner of the worst horse at the meeting does not want to see his horse step in a hole, throwing himself and his rider to the ground. Keeping up the courses is a job and particularly so when it always lands upon the shoulders of a few people who will do the work. To get the horses and spectators to the meetings, such jobs will have to be handled.

Hunt meetings are playing such an important part in keeping steeplechasing and amateur sport alive. They are being supported by many people and the support will continue to be forthcoming if a few outstanding criticisms can be erased.

Letters To The Editor

Disagrees With Writer

Dear Editor:

I was very much surprised that you would publish the ill-tempered scurilous attack on Mr. Stifler as contained in the letter written by Mr. H. E. Prince. It is my opinion that this letter should have been returned to Mr. Prince with a letter from you explaining that you could and would not publish a letter of this type, that so distorted the meaning of the letter it criticized and ridiculed.

I have had the pleasure of knowing Mr. Stifler for a great many years and during this time have seen him officiate in the ring several times, although I have never shown under him myself. My own observations are that he is a more than adequate judge and is absolutely fair in his placing, in addition he has also shown all the attributes of a gentleman and a sportsman.

It is a great pity that there has to be all this gripping about the judging at horse shows, it has existed for years, it will probably continue as long as horse shows exist; however it is the obligation of all sportsmen to step on it firmly and promptly whenever it comes to their attention. Probably the most effective method is to educate owners and parents as to what consists of a good performance for both horse and rider. Parents are probably the ones most in need of this edification as many of them have never ridden or owned a horse until their children went to a livery stable and started to take riding lessons. It is these parents, who, when told by well meaning friends, equally ignorant, but with no axe to grind, or the riding instructor, who is definitely sharpening his axe, that their child had an excellent performance, that the cry "We've been robbed" goes up.

Unfortunately, as Mr. Stifler has pointed out in his letter, so often the horse show committees card so many classes that the judges must push all day long to get through in time and as a consequence do not have the time to mark their cards as completely as they might wish to do, nor to stop and explain the reason for their decisions. This is not the fault of the judges, although they probably get the blame, but, rather of the show management. There is not a judge, and I particularly include Mr. Stifler, who if approached properly, will not be more than glad to explain the reason why a horse or rider did not place, or, if he did place, why he was not higher in the ribbons. Any judge, as with any other human being, will resent, at the end of a long tiring day, the hear who jumps down his throat.

In conclusion, may I say that I feel that you owe, Mr. Stifler an apology for publishing Mr. Prince's letter, and that, further, Mr. Prince owes Mr. Stifler a public apology?

Very truly yours,

S. Griswold Flag, Jr.

Editorial Comment

Dear Editor:

I have just been reading the leading article in The Chronicle of September 19, and I would like my appreciation of it to cross the Atlantic to its writer. I have never seen an equal exposition of this very tricky subject, nor so much sense talked about it, and it is one of those things that I would have been proud of having written myself—had I been able to. All best wishes.

Laurel's International—Shrieking Success, Good Horse Race, Fine Example of Sportsmanship

Joe H. Palmer

It is entirely possible that the Grey Lag Handicap at Jamaica was the best race of last week. This department did not see it, since it is impractical to be at Jamaica and Laurel at the same time, and the race which drew the most interest was the Washington, D. C. International, Laurel's first attempt at what might be called extra-mural competition.

Incidentally, several people are under a misconception. Naturally, with an international race coming up, there was talk of previous ones, and every time *Epinard was mentioned, somebody would say, "Right here at this track, too". Maybe there was some misrepresentation when the track was sold. *Epinard ran in the first International at Belmont Park, in the second at Aqueduct, and in the third at Latonia. He was second all three times, though Everett Haynes, who rode him, insists that he won the mile event at Aqueduct, and has motion pictures to prove it. They don't prove it, because they were made at a considerable angle, but it was that close.

Laurel's first international race was a shrieking success, a good horse race in itself, and a fine example of sportsmanship. People who didn't get $15 on Wilwyn cheered with the ones who did. I suppose it's a criticism of racing that I was surprised at this, but then I'd spent two weeks at Jamaica immediately before it. Marylanders are a somewhat different race. Just before the International went off, I heard a baby crying somewhere down in the crowd; at Jamaica it's just horseplayers who cry, children not being admitted in New York. On the whole, the baby sounded better, though I'm not a child lover.

In the Grey Lag, to get rid of it, Greentree's Tom Fool won the longest race of his life—a mile and a furlong—and also $42,200, which ran his earnings for the year to $110,200, and for his two seasons to $266,160. Maybe it justified his ranking at the top of the Experimental Handicap also, for at 119 pounds he was giving weight by the scale to all of his competition, including Battleground (4, 118), which he beat a head, and such other combatants as Alerted, Oil Capitol, and To Market, which kept unsullied his reputation for never winning a race in New York. It was very unsullied, in fact, he finished last.

But the International was definitely the better show. When Laurel opened first under the regime of John Schapiro, and I found things like the West Kensington Stringed Band in the infield, with floating silk robes and ostrich plumes, I was in two minds about it, both of them bad. I have no particular knock on the West Kensington Stringed Band, in its place. Never mind the place; it just wasn't the Laurel infield. But Laurel has mastered the very difficult art of showmanship without ostentation. The International was a fine show, never marred by the idea that it was being overdone. The customers—26,014 of them, and more by nearly 1,000 than Laurel has ever had before—were given the idea that they were seeing something special, but they weren't beaten over the head with it. Despite a slightly carping mind, I couldn't find anything wrong with it.

The race itself was excellent. Wilwyn, a 4-year-old colt by Pink Flower, crept steadily up out of the pack to enter contention on the final trip around the far turn, and was easily the best. Charles Smirke, one of England's best jockeys who rode Zuccherio into third place, thought afterward that he had the best horse, but I could see nothing to support this; if he had the best horse, why in perdition didn't he win? The race, it should be noted, was very cleanly run, everybody on his best behavior. Eddie Blind, who had to manage an unfamiliar walk-up start had taken the jockeys into a private conference and had spoken to them frankly. Possibly this had something to do with it. Anyway, the start was good, the race clean, and as far as I could see the best horse won.

It is doubtful that Wilwyn beat the best American horses, but he beat solidly good ones. He had won ten straight in England, one of them under 143 pounds. Probably the Dymchurch Plate is not much of a race, but 143 pounds is a package which, as far as I can remember, no American horse has carried in a middle distance race since Discovery got beat under it in the Merchants' and Citizens' Handicap of 1936. Robert Boucher, who raises hops in Kent (Kent has always been a source of trouble; William the Conqueror came in there, and so did St. Augustine, and two or three rebellions began there), was reported to have declined an offer of 15,000 pounds for Wilwyn. It was a good thing he did, for that's about what the colt won at Laurel.

The trophy for the International was a remarkable thing, too. Most of it is a globe, which spins, and I can just see the English Jockey Club, before which it is to be exhibited, playing roulette with it, betting on which parallel of latitude it stops on. The significance of

Breeding Notes

Yearlings In Training: Cosmic Bomb's
First Stakes Winner; La Corredora

Karl Koontz

There is no place where one can spend time more interestingly than where yearlings are getting their first gallops. Here you get a look at the yearlings that are the results of planned matings—the combination of certain bloodlines. Here you see the produce of a top mare, or the first get of a young stallion in action. Here the new owner gets his first look at his sales ring purchase under saddle, or perhaps a new breeder sees his first "try" at this game emerge onto the racing scene. Here another breeder is trying to sell his yearling to an interested party, who is scrutinizing the youngster's every move as he works. Here all is slow galloping, time enough later for speed and silks. Here hopes are high—prospects bright.

These thoughts were forcibly brought home through a recent trip to Timonium. At this Maryland track Trainer Louis Pascal has on hand 11 yearlings for various patrons. On entry into the stable area, all is a bustle of activity as yearlings and older horses are prepared for their morning work.

As Louise Baker, former instructor at Hanna Moore Academy and Jockey Gus Pappas mounted the first set, the "watchers" moved up along the rail to see these yearlings go. Along with the Pascal-trained set is sent the racer Night Count, which acts as lead pony and pace setter.

In his stable, L. Pascal has B. S. Campbell's black Tip-Toe filly Kith n' Kin, a British Buddy colt named Boss John, a bay Alaking colt, and an Anibras—Night Watch colt. The latter is a half-brother to Mr. Campbell's favorite racer Night Count, which was saved from being destroyed by his owner, when the son of Count Morse splintered his ankle in 1949 at Delaware and the vets wanted the horse put down.

Snowden Carter has his interests in a good boned brown Attention colt to which he has affixed the name Dark Patrol. As everywhere, horses by Attention are arousing a great deal more interest since the advent of Spartan Valor.

J. A. McKenna has two home-bred yearlings getting their first lessons here at the track. The black filly is by Mr. McKenna's young *Heliopolis stallion Glen Heather; while the chestnut colt, like Blue Man, is inbred to Man o'War. This colt is by Swashbuckler out of a Pilate mare, which in turn is out of a Man o'War mare.

Completing the lineup were 3 yearlings by Anibras, which were learning their ABC's of racing under the Pascal method. These 3, which formed a consignment of O'Farrell Brothers, were scheduled to be sold on Tuesday of this past week.

This later group had only been under saddle 7 days when they were observed, and already they were working under the shed in a steady even way—a real credit to their trainer.

If Louis Pascal has a favorite among the group, it might possibly rest between a well-balanced black Zayin colt which he and his brother "Mike" bought, or the black Tip-Toe filly. This filly is out of Kitiwake which was handled by Mr. Pascal in his early training days and she won for him both on the flat and over jumps.

In any case, he's not committing himself as to the best racing prospect of the group, for he has seen too often an awkward and, perhaps, even backward yearling step to the wire as a 2-year-old in front of the quick looking ones.

Tritium means an isotope of Hydrogen having an atomic weight of 3—but now it also stands for the winner of the 1952 running of the Selima Stakes. Tritium is the first winner and first stakes winner for her sire Cosmic Bomb.

Brookmeade's 2-year-old brown filly out of Katylea, by Bull Lea—Katydid, by Display made her first start at Belmont Park on October 4 in a 6-furlong maiden filly race, which she won by 2 lengths from Hootsie. Curiously enough—Hootsie, is also by Cosmic Bomb.

In her second start on October 11, Tritium was sent out to attempt a great deal more distance. The event was the 1 1-16 miles Selima Stakes at Laurel. Here she met Ogden Phipps' duo of His Duchess and Flirtatious, as well as King Ranch's Mac Bea. However, the Cosmic Bomb miss had no trouble disposing of the 6 entrants and came home under the urging of Jockey R. Nash to win by 1 1-4 lengths.

Tritium's dam, Katylea won $7,895 in 3 seasons of racing. In the last start of her 2-year-old year, she put in a winning performance in the Waves Purse at Belmont. In this 3-4 mile jaunt she defeated a number of fillies which were later to become good producers. Among them were: Admiral's Lady, dam of the excellent handicapper Crafty Admiral; Boomtown Gal, dam of B. Battery, which set a new track mark of .53 4-5 for 4 1-2 furlongs at Laurel; and Durability, dam of the good winner Endurable.

Tritium's 2nd dam, Katydid is the dam of His Boots, winner of the Grand National. Tom Roby, Manly, and Beverwyck 'chase 'caps and one of the leading steeplechasers of 1949. Katydid also produced the winners Bean by Bean, Boston Miss, Cambric, and Cellophane. Katydid is a half-sister to the stakes winner Mokatom, sire of the dam of Uncle Miltie; Trina, stakes winner and dam of the stakes winning Repand; Lucille Wright, dam of Talked About; and Twenty Six. This is the female family of the unbeaten Colin.

Cosmic Bomb, *Pharamond II—Banish Fear, by Blue Larkspur, was sold as a yearling by Stoner Creek for $29,500 to the late W. G. Helis. For this Greek sportsman he was a winner of $248,890 which was accumulated through victories in the Lawrence Realization, Arlington Futurity, Cowdin Stakes, Discovery, Trenton, and Roamer Handicaps, etc. In the Trenton, he raced the 1 1-8 miles in 1.48 2-5 to set a new track record.

In pedigree he comes from the distaff line of such outstanding horses as Pilate, Boat, War Flower, and Black Majesty.

Steeplechasing Leaders At U. S. Tracks In 1952

Easy Mark

Steeplechasing at the major tracks closed on Friday, Oct. 3, with the 52nd running of the Grand National 'Chase at Belmont Park. The winner of America's most important jumping classic was Montpelier's Sea Legs. His breeder is Mrs. Marion duPont Scott, who is the owner of Montpelier.

How prominently Mrs. Scott and Montpelier figure in the 'chasing game can be confirmed by checking the following compilation of the leading winners in the 122 races over jumps which were carded at the major tracks in this country during 1952.

Among the horsemen there have always been two camps when it came to theories on producing jumpers. One side takes the stand that it isn't necessary to breed with the specific aim of getting a jumper, as any horse can be schooled to jump, only some of them learn to do it a whole lot better than others. On the other side of the fence there are those who say the way to get a good jumper is to breed with that end product in view.

Many examples can be found to bear out both of the above opinions. However, this year's victories at the big tracks prove pretty conclusively that if you set out to breed jumpers, your chances of getting a winner in the sport through the field are definitely greater than by just taking any horse that comes along. For many years Mrs. Marion duPont Scott has been a proponent of the theory that to get a winning jumper one must breed with that in mind. All one has to do is to look at this year's records to see how right she is.

The leading sire of jumpers, which won at the big tracks during 1952, is the veteran sire and famed winner of the English Grand National, Battleship. His sons and daughters scored 14 victories. Second on the list is Annapolis, whose get took the winner's share of the purse 9 times. Both of these sires are owned by Mrs. Scott and are now living in retirement at Montpelier, which is located at Montpelier Station, Virginia. Annapolis is now 26 years old, Battleship 25. The get of these two sires have accounted for approximately 20 percent of the victories in the races run over jumps at the U. S. tracks.

The leading breeder of course, is Mrs. Marion duPont Scott. Eight of the Montpelier-breeds recorded 15 victories this year. The mistress of Montpelier is so far ahead in this end of the 'chasing game that her theory should convince jumper enthusiasts and for that matter all pedigree pundits.

This year's owners ranks was led by Rigan McKinney, who also tied Arthur White for the trainer's honors. The victories among the training fraternity were pretty well divided with no one getting too far ahead of the opposition, as the competition was keener than usual.

The veteran, Jockey Frank "Doo-ley" Adams, booted the most mounts home to lead the riders. Jockey Adams led this department last year and since he has 9 victories at the hunt meetings as of October 11, he has a good chance to be the leading steeplechase rider when the curtain falls on this year's hunt meet racing.

3 Exceptionally Good Mares

Top Stakes Mare

PRICE LEVEL

Blk. M. 1942, by *SICKLE—ANCHORS AHEAD by MAN O'WAR

Here is an unusual opportunity for breeders to buy a priceless foundation broodmare with flawless credentials. A young stakes winning mare with outstanding conformation by the leading broodmare sire, *SICKLE . . . PRICE LEVEL's family is now well established as one of America's strongest producing families. Her dam, ANCHORS AHEAD, (by MAN O'WAR) is also dam of such stout stakes horses as OUR HERO (also sire), OCEAN BLUE, TRUE BLUE, and the good producer, ON THE LEVEL (PRICE LEVEL's full sister). ANCHORS AHEAD is also full sister to WAR RELIC, WAR KILT and SPEED BOAT (dam of LEVEL BEST).

PRICE LEVEL'S Race Record

Won Rancocas, Spinaway, Autumn Day, Jeanne D'Arc Stakes; 3rd in Matron Stakes at two. In these races she was capable of defeating such good fillies as BUSHY (giving weight), ACE CARD, SAFEGUARD, JACK'S JILL, LESLIE GREY and WAR DATE. Retired sound after a light race campaign at three, in which she won her first start and came back to run 2nd in Colonial Handicap, beating RAMPART, ADROIT, etc.

PRICE LEVEL'S Breeding Record

This mare has been bred a total of seven seasons and failed to produce live foal only one season (1950) when she was barren to *MAHMOUD. In the Fall of 1949 PRICE LEVEL was offered for sale in the dispersal of the Estate of Crispin Oglebay and was so highly regarded the present consignor was obliged to bid $45,000 to obtain her barren. Her first and only foal to reach the races thus far was "SUDDEN IMPULSE" by *HELIOPOLIS, good winner in California at three (1950), beating HONEYMOON's full sister. Her second two foals of 1948 and 1949 respectively (both by ROMAN), died in accidents before reaching the races. In 1950 the present consignor bred PRICE LEVEL to the ageing *BLENHEIM II, from which cover she produced a colt (sold at Saratoga 1952). She was bred back to NOBLE IMPULSE in 1951, producing an outstanding filly foal which the consignor is retaining for breeding and racing purposes. PRICE LEVEL is now in foal to NOBLE IMPULSE this season and due to foal early in March.

Astronomer Wins Foxcatcher Plate

Done Sleeping Wins Third Straight Over Timber;
*Queer Wednesday Wins Maiden Brush

One doesn't have to be in shape to go four miles over timber to watch the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club race meeting. The grandstand is only a few steps away from the paddock and the figure-eight course makes it unnecessary to do a lot of hustling and tearing to watch the jumps. With three more hunt meetings to go before the fall circuit has been completed this meeting on October 18 brought to a close the Pennsylvania meetings.

The Foxcatcher Plate, about 2 miles over brush, was the feature of the card and here scratches worked havoc and only 4 horses went postward. Mrs. Fay Ingalls' home-bred Bab's Whey, which finished 2nd to Monkey Wrench in the International Gold Cup at Rolling Rock on the 11th, was carrying top weight of 152 lbs. which included Jockey C. V. B. Cushman. Disregarding the weight, Bab's Whey went away on top and after coming around the turn and back in front of the stands to jump the 3rd, the order was Bab's Whey, C. Mahlon Kline's Astronomer and *Spleen and the Canadian horse, Charioteer, owned by J. B. McColl.

Back of the hill and then into sight over the 6th, Jockey T. Lyons and Astronomer held a slight lead over Bab's Whey and after making a complete turn of the course to get back to this spot again, Astronomer was leading by half a length over the 12th. Downhill and then uphill into the stretch, Jockey Lyons kept Astronomer ahead of Bab's Whey and the Kline color-bearer chalked up his third trip to the winner's circle this fall. Bab's Whey was 2nd with Charioteer 3rd ahead of *Spleen.

Horses owned by a farmer, or landowner or a member of a recognized hunt in southeastern Pennsylvania made up the field for the first race, the Agricultural stakes.

W. L. Crossen's Crazy People and Jockey L. Graham were the first pair by the judges' but Crazy People was disqualified for claiming and carrying incorrect weight. This put last year's winner of this race, Alvin Christman's 15-year-old Betty's Bobby, into the winner's circle, moving Stephen W. Grace's Gray Brand into 2nd and H. Hammond, Jr.'s Fenland into 3rd.

The W. Plunket Stewart Memorial Challenge Cup was first run in 1950 and is over the about 2-mile brush course. Six maiden steeplechasers lined up for Starter Harold Plumb with Justin Funkhouser's German-bred Auftakt and Jockey D. Marzani taking over the early pace. This bay gelding switched to timber at Rolling Rock, then to brush and was scratched from Rose Tree's timber event. The field was shortened after the 1st jump when Mrs. Edwin B. Early's Composer lost Jockey C. Bowersox. The remaining 5 horses had an uneventful trip to the 6th where Arthur E. Pew, Jr.'s *Queer Wednesday and Jockey A. P. Smithwick were handling the front end of the field ahead of *Auftakt and Bellevue Farm's Petrovna. At the 9th which is in front of the stands the leaders were the same but here Petrovna and Jockey C. V. B. Cushman went down.

Around the back of the hill and then over the 12th and last, Samuel R. Fry's *Poughbay and Jockey J. Murphy fell, leaving a field of 4 to race toward the finish. By now *Queer Wednesday had opened up a 12-length gap and kept this advantage to the wire as *Auftakt placed ahead of G. D. Y. Leacock's Surprise Camp.

The timber horses make three complete turns of the course in the Rose Tree Hunter Challenge Cup for the about 3 miles. Spectators get a quick picture of the way the horses are jumping as the first two jumps are directly in front of the stands, then the course lies straight ahead over the 3rd, around the end of the figure-eight, over the 4th and by the judges' stand toward the 5th. At the 5th A. C. Stokes' *Tolbiac, the Argentine-bred which won over timber at Whitmarsh this fall, held a slight lead over F. E. Dixon, Jr.'s Hydro Bello, also a winner over post and rails this fall at Radnor. The Maryland entry of Miss Mary Ryan's Merrily and Thomas McKelvey's Fair Run were 3rd and 4th with George T. Weymouth's *Done Sleeping 5th and last. The latter won at Fair Hill and defeated *Gift of Gold at Rolling Rock on October 11. Checking the horses over the 10th, Jockey M. Ferral was handling the pace setting duties on Hydro Bello. Mr. H. Hammond and *Tolbiac fell at the 8th. At the 15th, which marks two turns of the course, Mr. E. Weymouth was in front on *Done Sleeping with Jockey J. Downs 2nd on Merrily.

Another turn of the course and over the last jump, *Done Sleeping led by a safe margin and increased his advantage in the uphill stretch drive. He won by 5 lengths with Hydro Bello 2nd, Merrily 3rd and Fair Run 4th.

It has become the usual rather than the unusual to run The Riddle Cup, about 1 mile on the flat, in two divisions. With the 24 starters on hand, each field had 12 to go postward. Mrs. Simon T. Patterson's Thermion was sent right out by Jockey T. Lyons and the grey gelding handled the pace setting duties easily until the field entered the stretch. Here the positions changed and under the wire the winner was William H. Frantz' Arctic Fox and Jockey J. Murphy; C. Mahlon Kline's Sneak-Out placing ahead of Arthur E. Pew, Jr.'s *Orestes Kid.

Last year Arthur E. Pew, Jr.'s color-bearers annexed both divisions of The Riddle Cup and this year his *Tico Tico turned in a repeat performance which placed his trainer, D. D. Odell at the head of the hunt meeting trainers with 12 winners. Walter F. Wickes, Jr.'s Sahara and Jockey R. Leaf handled the front of the field until after the quarter mile mark when Jockey C. Weimer took over with *Tico Tico Holding this position through the remainder of the race, *Tico Tico came in ahead of Sahara with Mrs. W. C. Wright's Sandy Flash 3rd.

The Autumn Stayers' Plate is the longer flat race, being carded at 1 1-2 miles. This brought out 10 horses and they, plus the 24 which started in The Riddle Cup, made a total of 34 horses starting on the flat. Mrs. C. W. Williams' War Gold showed early pace but then Jockey M. Ferral took over with C. Mahlon Kline's Old Shoe with K. K. Manners' Army Power 2nd. At the mile it was still Old Shoe ahead of George T. Weymouth's *Goyuca, Army Power 3rd and Mrs. W. C. Wright's Phosphor 4th. Old Shoe led into the stretch but Jockey E. Phelps was sending Phosphor right along and the winner was Phosphor by three-quarters of a length as Old Shoe placed ahead of Jockey A. P. Smithwick on Arthur E. Pew, Jr.'s *Rallywood.

Patricia Palmer's Sketch Of Manyunk; Jockey Eddie Arcaro Up

This week's cover picture is of Manyunk, a brown son of Unbreakable—Golden Manda, by Man o'War, which was bred by William du Pont, Jr., and got his name from a combination of his sire and dam's name, plus a few variations.

In his first two seasons he raced for his breeder and won more than $17,000. In the summer of 1949 Mr. duPont sold the horse to Henry W. Collins, former chairman of the Oregon State Racing Commission. In the colors of Mr. Collins and his friend Barney W. Foster, Manyunk won the Wilson Stakes, and before the end of the year, he also had won the American Legion and San Carlos 'Caps. For Foxcatcher Farms he had been 3rd in the Christopher J. Fitzgerald 'Cap earlier in 1949, and at 2 he had been 2nd to Seven Leagues in the Potomac Stakes.

In 1950 Manyunk won only one stake, the San Diego Handicap, in which he was ridden by Australian Jockey George Moore, a visitor to the United States. The Collins-Foster partnership was disbanded in the fall of 1950 and after that Manyunk raced for the H. W. Collins Stable. That year he also had a 2nd in the La Jolla Handicap, and came in 3rd in the Preview and Argonaut 'Cap.

In 1951 he won the St. Patrick's Day 'Cap, was 2nd in the San Pasqual and Hollywood Premier and 3rd in the Art Sparks Handicap. On May 19 of that year Manyunk finished 2nd to Round Stitch in a 3-4 mile overnight handicap at Hollywood Park. The chart caller said, "The latter (Manyunk) was prominent throughout, saved ground in the stretch and finished gamely." The horse broke a blood vessel in his lung in the race and died the following day. During his racing career he had won a total of $165,225 for his connections.

The jockey up on Manyunk in this sketch is the "Old Maestros" Edward Arcaro, whose records we need not go into. Jockey Eddie Arcaro has probably been painted and sketched on more famous horses than any other reinsman in this country.

Mrs. Patricia Palmer, the coast artist who has done portraits of many famous horses and dogs, has caught Mr. Arcaro and Manyunk in a very typical pose. This drawing is owned by Mr. Collins, who keeps it in his Portland office where he has a collection of pictures and trophies won by his stable.

this trophy was explained to me, but I am not very good at this sort of thing. It has four horses, representing horses, some black-eyed susans representing Maryland, and some laurel wreaths, representing, I guess, Laurel. There were other things, representing other things, but I did not get them clearly in my mind.

A disqualification in New York is doubly unfortunate, because the next day's papers are sure to speak of New York's "outmoded" rule about putting a disqualified horse last, and the injustice to the bettors, and so on into the night. As to injustice to the bettors, nonsense. It says in the problem that a disqualified horse shall be placed last, and if bettors do not want to take the risk they should save their money and buy A. T. & T. As to the "outmoded," I'm not quite sure that everything that's old is wrong. In other sports, any specific foul has a specific punishment. This may be too broad a statement, because I do not know other sports very well, but it holds in general. If the right end of a football team slugs his opponent with a commendable exhibition of college spirit, it is not a permissible plea that the play went around left end and that the slugging had nothing to do with it.

Most states have gone the other way, but the idea of "give him what he would have got if he hadn't fouled" doesn't appeal to me much. The foul which disqualified Jamie K. from the Remsen in favor of Social Outcast wasn't deliberate—the horse just bolted—but if the stewards take to trying to read the jockey's minds, heaven help us all. Jamie K., I think, may have been the better horse, but that's not the point. He's a brother to Nell K., but that's not the point, either. He crossed in front of his contender and made him check, so he got put last. That's the point. Next time his rider will watch him a little more carefully.

This past summer Mrs. Peter Bance, of Richmond, Virginia, sold Spanish Mint, by Spanish Ghost, to Mrs. R. Dean Rucker and the grey gelding was a champion and many times reserve tri-color winner in green hunter competition.

Then on September 30, the dark bay gelding Mintaway, by Bossuet, which she sold to Mr. Currier of Washington, D. C. as a yearling, broke his maiden at Hazel Park in a maiden 2-year-old race. Mintaway covered the 6 furlongs distance in 1.13 2-5—defeating 8 other entrants—and was eased up to finish out the 6 1-2 furlongs in 1.20. This exhibit so pleased the gelding's owner that he came back to Mrs. Bance and bought Mintaway's yearling full-sister—for considerably more than he paid for Mintaway.

What makes this picture so much more interesting is that all three of these horses are out of the same mare, Mint Essence, by Brandon Mint—Smart Baby, by Blondin. Mint Essence is now in foal to the $96,825 stakes winner Tola Rose.

Every breeder gets a thrill out of seeing his home-breds perform well, and Mrs. Peter Bance can feel justly proud.

Up at Rockingham Park, Salem, New Hampshire, they really like their racing, almost as much as mountaineers like their moonshine. On Columbus Day, October 13, the management carded 14 events, commencing the day's operation at 10:15 a. m. An estimated crowd of 32,132 put through the mutual windows $2,024,706, and for the most part they were duly rewarded as the horses ran very close to form.

The first race of the morning was a 2-year-old maiden filly race which Ellen's Lisa (Quarter Moon—Air, Cooled, by *Jacopo) won by 1 1-2 lengths. This filly is a half-sister to the top distance runner Pilaster.

Longest price of the day's meeting was the $50.20 for $2.00, which Good Egg (Discovery—Ovallette, by *Chicle) paid, when he won the 2nd race, a 6-furlong claiming affair.

The feature of the day, the Columbus Day Handicap, was won by Keene Gurnee's brown filly Peu-A-Peu, by Jean Valjean—Happy Miracle, by Happy Time. This filly was the only member of her sex in the 6-furlong event.

Other sires whose get won during the day included: Whirlaway, War Dog, Vincitive, Halbred, *Sir Gallahad III, Bimelech, Menow, Third Degree, Gallant Duke, Grand Admiral and Sir Jim James.

Judging from Rockingham, there are a lot of people happy that Columbus discovered America.

Mrs. M. W. O'Connor has bred herself a really nice filly in La Corredora, bay by Little Beans—Nellie Mowlee, by Mowlee. Last year this filly was a winner of $9,375, which included the money she got for winning the Pimlico Breeder's Stakes over A. T. Clark's speedy Jeannie C.

This season, up until the afternoon of October 14, La Corredora had collected $37,625. Her wins included the 1 1-16 miles Monmouth Oaks over some of the best 3-year-old fillies—such as Star-Enfin, Place Card, Parading Lady, Enchanted Eve, Hushaby Baby, Devilkin and No Score. In the Beldame Handicap she finished 3rd behind Real Delight and Marta after having gotten to the top end and was leading by 2 lengths, she could not withstand these two.

On the afternoon of October 14, La Corredora won the 6th race, entitled the Vineland Trial (1 mile and 70 yards) by a nose from My Celeste. Her part in the program upped her earnings by $3,125.

With her $50,125, La Corredora is the largest wage-earner for her sire Little Beans. (Mirafel—Florhi, by Playfellow), which is most known for his win in the Eastern Shore Handicap over Level Best and Porter's Cap.

to pass Old Shoe in the stretch drive. The latter took over the pace after the half-mile mark but could not withstand bid in final stages. *Rallywood raced well off pace and improved position in late stages. *Goyuca came up to leaders but could not maintain pace. The rest were never serious threats. Scratched: *Irish Flame, *Orestes Kid, *Queer Wednesday, Petrovna, Wygant.

WEEKLY NEWS FROM THE SHOW CIRCUITS

Eastern Show Circuit Reaches Climax With Three Big Indoor Horse Shows

Nancy G. Lee

Much is written about the Triple Crown in racing but seldom does one hear about the Triple Crown in the horse show circles in the east. This imaginary title may well be applied to the horses which are now showing at The Pennsylvania National, from whence they will move on to The National Horse Show and then the Royal Winter Fair. Entries are not strictly from the eastern circuit but from the mid-west too come entries for the hunter, jumper and equitation ranks.

When the spring season begins there are many hopefuls which enter the ring and the program is somewhat like that of many other branches of sport which feature the Thoroughbred. Spring is the time when a hunter leaves the field as a conveyance to hounds and his next outing is still ever natural hunting country but this time the event is a point-to-point. Should he show that he has the foot and is still a good jumper, he will be headed toward the novice timber events at the sanctioned hunt meeting. Throughout his timber career, the pinnacle is to face the starter in The Maryland Hunt Cup. Even though he may reach such a point on the last Saturday in April, there will still be disappointment in store for all but one of the owners as only one can win. It is much the same with the show ranks. The season begins hopefully and whether the horse is showing in the young or green, conformation, working hunters or open jumper ranks, his owner and rider hope they have one which will prove to be good enough for the climax of the horse show season—the Pennsylvania National and The National, with some few going on to Toronto for the Royal Winter Fair.

There is nothing more pleasant than to watch a young hunter in one of the indoor rings, jumping well and displaying all the nonchalance of a seasoned veteran. One can see the cream of the crop at these large shows, each one showing the results of careful handling and schooling throughout the season. Nothing has been spared in the way of feed and care so that when the horse enters the ring, he is the picture of perfection. This isn't accomplished overnight or within the space of a few weeks. It is done by slow, consistent work and patience, with all hopes pinned on the final outcome of the "big time"

There are the owners of top conformation horses which have to step to the sidelines when the indoor shows start because their horses will not perform to the best of their ability indoors under lights. Working hunters which have been chalking up impressive records during the year may not like the idea of jumping in a ring, so that division loses some of its stars. With the open jumpers, they seem to go on and on, and seldom does one hear of a member of this division which cannot show at these indoor events because it won't jump indoors.

The prospective "starters" for the major events include the junior members who have been working hard all year to qualify either for the MacLay trophy, or the A. H. S. A. high score award, hunting seat at The National and with the great amount of interest shown by these younger riders, qualifying is no simple matter but the prospect of being in the finals at The National is well worth working for. At this show, as well as the other two, there are other junior events so that both horses and riders can participate.

Right up to the time the first horses entered the ring at Harrisburg and through the final class at the Royal Winter Fair, the preparation goes on to show the horses and riders in their best form. Accidents will occur which will place hopefuls on the sidelines; an entry will suddenly find himself and turn in performances which are pleasing to his owner and rider; juniors will find themselves among strong competition and owners will discover that a horse which appeared well in his own section, doesn't quite come up to the mark with entries from such a wide spread area. This all goes together to make up that section of the horse world known as "horse shows"—the climax coming in the east with three big indoor shows.

Community Chest Benefit

This first annual show was sponsored by the Hottentot Riding Club in Denver and became the fourth member from Colorado in the American Horse Shows Association. A well organized show, its carefully planned courses for hunters and jumpers gave each horse an honest chance.

To give encouragement to inexperienced riders and owners of young horses, a green division for working hunters was added to the program; the division was well filled and much enjoyed by exhibitors who all too often have no classes in which to enter because of the high conformation scoring usual in green hunter events. As a result, several exhibitors new to horse shows had the time of their lives and more than once a consistently performing small child's hunter broke into the winner's circle when the larger horses failed to show equal manners and jumping ability.

The two outstanding hunters were Miss Alice Wolf's Actright which has the perfect manners and grace of a lady's hunter, and Mrs. Hugh MacMillan's green mare, Forever Amber, which is really a promising young one with a nice way of going and a sure, easy style of jumping.

Corinthian Club

Under the capable handling of Mr. Hallman, Red Knight, owned by the Gardner Hallmans, took the lead for the open jumper championship of the state as the big liver chestnut won the jumper tri-color at this show. Skippy Diehlmann's Play Boy, well ridden by Mrs. Eileen Doyle, was reserve.

In the hunter division, Alta Vista Farm's good looking The Colonel, with Hugh Wiley doing the saddle work, was awarded the rosette. Tied for reserve were Miss Roxanne Wagner riding Surprise Party, Miss Nancy DiPaula and Catch Me, and Hugh Wiley riding Alta Vista Farm's Blue Ridge. Due to the fact that Blue Ridge had left the grounds, only Surprise Party and Catch Me appeared in the ring to be judged for conformation. The reserve went to the former.

Another championship was chalked up by Fritz Sterbak's grand pony, Surprise in the medium division with Billy Boyce, III and his Smokey Joe handling the reserve spot. Among the juniors, Master Sydney Gadd and his smooth performing black pony, Craven's Raven, were the champions ahead of Mrs. W. Graham Boyce's Honey Bee which was shown throughout the show by Miss Barbara Staley.

Cumberland

Under the chairmanship of Edgar D. Vandegrift and Daniel J. Dopko, the annual Cumberland Horse Show, sponsored by the Cumberland Lions Club for the benefit of the Allegany County League for Crippled children and Underprivileged Blind Children, drew a large gathering to the Fair Grounds.

The entries of E. L. McKessick made a clean sweep of the hunter and jumper division, with Sir Dwarf taking the hunter championship and Uplift the open jumper tri-color.

The reserve hunter crown was won by Carrol Rang's owner-ridden Virgil, with Imperatore Kaiser-Frazier's Bay Rock taking the reserve jumper championship.

Farmington Hunt Club

This show is always one which is nice to attend and is one of the more fortunate events which has a club house. There is nothing like getting the exhibitors together for a bit of food and fun and the job is much easier with club house facilities.

Summaries of the show list a great number of champions so that anyone with a horse was practically assured of a class in which to show. A nice feature of the final results was winning Mrs. J. Dean Rucker's Spanish Mint green hunter champion and Dr. and Mrs. Alvin T. Kay's Ripple Boy reserve. These exhibitors had lost their veteran conformation hunters, Clifton's Champ and Portmaker, and it was good to see them still in the exhibitor ranks this year with young horses. Spanish Mint also chalked up another honor by being pinned reserve grand champion behind Mrs. C. M. Baxtor's Long Road, the latter also being the conformation hunter champion ahead of Mrs. Page Jennings' well known Icecapade.

Outstanding among the working hunters was Miss Peggy Augustus' Defense which was awarded the tri-color ahead of Mr. and Mrs. W. Haggin Perry's Sun Hazard. Sun Hazard, a 4-year-old, has been showing successfully for his former owner and rider, Miss Betty Beryl Schenk.

Open jumpers had their division and ahead of the field was Mr. and Mrs. William E. Howland's Southpaw with Jackie Vial's Spinning Time reserve. Spinning Time captured the big money by winning the blue in the open jumper stake.

Horsemanship and pony classes were included and among the ponies, Mrs. Bruce Noland's Spanish Mister was awarded the rosette with Elliott McElhinney's Briar Bey reserve.

Forward Passer, with Miss Barbara Pease riding, totaled up 17 points to be well ahead for the tricolor. Chado Farms' Chado, with his usual jock Frank Chapot in the saddle, narrowly nosed out Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Janssen's G. Junior for the reserve ribbon.

In the jumper division, the entries were light. Owner-rider Bert Todd on The Panther took home the championship. John Kniades, doing a wonderful job of riding Oakland Military Academy's Furlough, accounted for the reserve ribbon.

EGLINTON HUNT

R. R. 1, Todmorden, Ontario, Canada.
Established 1929.
Recognized 1934.

The Elkridge-Harford Hunt opened its cubbing season on Sept. 2 and so far the sport shown has been excellent. There have been several outstanding hunts that were as good as any we can expect to have when our regular hunting begins. On Sept. 22 hounds met at Rutledge and soon found in the Power Line woods. They ran over the Charles Walker farm and then on across the Lynch farm to Pleasant Valley. Crossing the main road they continued through Harry Scarff's, Schley's and Pocock's and then raced over the Obre fields to Murgatroid's, ending up on Miss Garnett Hutchins farm where they lost their fox in a large cornfield. This was a very fast run of an hour and 45 minutes. It was a 5 mile point but, as hounds ran, the distance was nearer 10 miles. On September 17 the meet was at the Manor. A fox was found on Dr. Chenowitch's farm and he led hounds over the German and Hirsch Jacobs' land and straight on to Phoenix, a point of about 3 miles. Here he made for the big Phoenix woods and ran in them for 3 hours before going to ground. The pack at Harford now consists of 15 couple of bitches and 13 1-2 of dog hounds. From the samples of their hunting we have already had it looks as though they should give us great sport during the coming season.

It has been particularly interesting to see the large number of very young fox-hunters in the field this year. In the present "Machine Age" this is very gratifying for the future of the sport will, of course, depend on the young entry who are just beginning their hunting careers. One morning there were 12 children out all under the age of 12 and all mounted on well schooled ponies. The day before our opening cubbing fixture a special children's meet had been arranged and among the children present were Edward T. McLean, Jr. and his sister Moira, Sally, Marylin and Ann Fox Reid, Ann and Dickie McIntosh, Sybil Miller, Paddy and Cooke Nelson, Jackie and Benjamin Griswold, Jr and Diana Schley. Two young guests who came over from Pennsylvania were Buzzie Hannum, whose mother is M. F. H. of the Cheshire hounds, and Winkie Cocks, the son of W. Burling Cocks. Winkie, who is only 9 years old, spurs a saddle and rides his piebald pony bareback, jumping all the fences with no apparent effort. If this continues we can be prepared to see him a few years hence competing in the Maryland Hunt Cup and riding the winner bareback. After the hunt there was a breakfast for the young riders at the club and later, Dallas Leith, the huntsman, gave the children a talk on hunting and blew various calls on his hunting horn explaining the meaning of each.

Mrs. Dean Bedford takes great interest in the children in this part of the country and is always ready to help them with their riding. She

On Sat., Oct. 4, a field of over 60 attended the opening meet at the country residence of C. L. Burton, about a mile east of Thornhill village.

Maj. Charles M. Kindersley, M. F. H., who alternates with Col. G. Allan Burton in hunting hounds, had Edward Cooper as well as Miss Lynne and Robert Kindersley acting Whippers-In. Col. Burton, on this occasion was Field Master.

Hounds were cast into the covert immediately north of Green Lane, and drawing northerly, soon found a fox who ran almost to number 7 highway before bending left-handed towards Bayview Avenue; then running southerly at a great pace to again cross Green Lane to enter the McQuade farm.

At this point our pilot was viewed but unfortunately, hounds soon ran out of scent. The Master then took hounds to the Dr. Bruce wood. They had hardly entered the woods before they had a fox that broke in full view of the field. This 2nd fox gave the Field a good gallop before being marked to ground.

About 4:30 P. M. the word was given for home, thus ending the good day of sport.

is responsible for having organized the Harford Pony Club which is the only branch of the English Pony Club in the United States. Our M. F. H., Mr. Edward Voss, is the Club's President and Mrs. Bedford is its District Commissioner. There are several of these clubs in Canada and each year they meet and hold a 3 day rally. The members of the Harford Pony Club are planning to be represented at the next rally by some of their best riders and they are arranging a day of Children's Hunter Trials to raise the necessary funds to ship their ponies by van to Canada.

On Sunday, Sept. 21 the club gave its annual Farmer's Day luncheon to the landowners whose property we hunt over. This year over 800 guests assembled. Luncheon was served on the lawn in front of the Clubhouse and afterwards games were held in an adjoining field. The main event was a tournament in which riders tilted at rings which were suspended from crossbars over the track. There were also horse-shoe pitching contests and races. As we were fortunate in having perfect weather the day was voted a great success.

This is the 14th season of Mr. Voss' Mastership and the field owe him a debt of gratitude for his generosity and for all he has done to promote sport in Harford. He has just imported a couple of fine bitches from the Portman sale in England which are smaller and not as heavy as the general run of English hounds. They have already been hunting well with our hounds and from the standpoint of breeding should prove a great addition to the pack.

Trinity

Two championships went home to Cobham with the W. Haggin Perrys. Mrs. Perry rode her newly acquired Sun Hazard to the working title and her always reliable One More Pennant was pinned conformation champion.

A green working division, held for the first time in Virginia at this show, attracted a number of entries. Champion was Miss Laura Lee Shreve's well known junior horse, Cheesecake, with the reserve going to Over Th' Hill Farm's 3-year-old Future, a daughter of the famous show mare, Spring Hope.

In the Upperville show ring a jumper has to be a versatile horse. He must twist and turn, avoid trees, plus jumping all kinds of brightly painted jumps. Outstanding in the open ranks was William E. Schlusmeyer, Jr.'s Little Hero which piled up a total of 22 points to top Bert Firestone's Golden Chance.

The most popular class of the show with the spectators was the grooms' event. The entrants were required to ride over ten 4'-0" jumps bareback. When a tie developed between Horace Cook on New Hope Farm's Miss Brooks and General Jackson on Golden Chance, the judges requested that the riders change horses. The winner was Horace Cook who found Golden Chance.

NO TEAM AT MEXICO

The directors of the U. S. Equestrian Team, Inc. announced with the greatest regret that it will be impossible to send our U. S. Equestrian Team to Mexico in December 1952, to participate in the Equestrian International Tournament celebrating the inauguration of the new president of Mexico. In 1952 we definitely pointed for the 15th Olympiad in Helsinki where our team performed with distinction. In this we were materially and financially supported by thousands of Americans. Our amateur riders have given generously of their time each for a year and a half or more. Since May they have competed in three German shows, in the Olympic Games at Helsinki, at the Dublin Show and the White City Show in London, at the moment they are representing the U. S. against four other nations at Haringburg, with the New York and Toronto shows following.

The armed forces have reclaimed two of our five prix des Nations riders and business and private affairs preclude the remaining three from continuing beyond Nov. 22 of this year. We appreciate the sacrifice by these riders and respect their wishes to return to the normalcy of their business and daily lives. Those well known private horses donated to us for the Olympic Games revert to their owners after Toronto. We feel that at the same time our aged army horses have justly earned their retirement. Good judgment forces us to face the facts that we have neither the riders nor the horses with which to compete in Mexico. In 1953 and in the Pan-American Games schedule for 1954 in Mexico, it will be different.

We report therefore to the members and supporters of our organization that on Nov. 23, 1952, our 1952 Prix des Nations Team will be dissolved to pass into history with a job well done. Next year we shall welcome a newly organized 1953 team.

Again our appreciation and sincere regrets to the Republic of Mexico.

Gen. F. W. Boye, Vice-Pres.,
U. S. Equestrian Team, Inc.

STUD MANAGERS COURSE

Last year the results of the stud managers course was so successful and met with such great approval that there was no question about another such course being offered this year. This course has been arranged by the American Thoroughbred Breeders' Association, Inc., and the Grayson Foundation, Inc., in cooperation with the University of Kentucky, to provide a short but comprehensive period of instruction and review for the benefit of stud farm managers and other interested persons. It is not offered as a complete course in veterinary medicine or farm management, but is intended to give horsemen an opportunity to keep informed about new ideas in their field and to exchange views with men from other parts of the country. It is patterned after a similar course in England, which has been quite successful. The inauguration of such an animal course at Lexington was suggested by Walter M. Jeffords, of the Grayson Foundation. The cost of the course is $25 and all applications should be made to Alex Bower, secretary-treasurer, P. O. Box 1520, Lexington, Ky.

The course is scheduled from November 17-21 and will include lectures, demonstrations, visits and panel discussions. Among the speakers will be Dr. B. J. Errington, Dr. H. N. Davis, C. F. White, Duval Headley, Dr. A. H. Davidson, Dr. D. L. Proctor, Humphrey S. Finney, Dr. E. R. Doll, Col. J. H. Kintner, etc.

BECKY'S SHIRT

Each year the Maryland Futurity brings together some of the best produce of mares covered in Maryland. Thirteen faced the starter for the 22nd running of this event at Laurel Park on October 16. Some of the most prominent names in Maryland's breeders ranks were listed after the pedigrees of the 13 2-year-olds. The favorite was Mrs. S. M. Pistorio's home-bred Devils Verse, a chestnut colt by The Rhymer—Devil May Care, by Diavolo. Mrs. Pistorio won considerable fame as the breeder of Princess Lygia.

However, the winner of this year's Maryland Futurity was a 2-year-old bay colt by Top Money—Corsolette, by Corsican Blade, a youngster which came up to the futurity with a record of 7 wins—breaking his maiden at Ascot Park, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio on June 11, at 4 1-2 furlongs. In his 14 starts he has only been unplaced twice. Prior to his victory in the futurity he had earned $8,125, which was a little less than the $8,563 he received for his victory in the Maryland Classic. His earning column after that race showed $16,688. Mrs. R. H. Heigh's home-bred Parable came in for place money with the favorite Devils Verse 3rd and Lunar Park, another of Mrs. R. H. Heigh's entries, 4th.

The chart shows that the owner of this Maryland fixture is Mrs. R. G. Collins, his breeder, Mrs. J. C. Collins and his trainer, Rebecca G. Collins. One can only surmise that the owner breeder and trainer of this youngster is one and the same person, and somebody who is apparently a horse enthusiast of the first water as the name Becky's Shirt sounds like the owner put everything and all of it in the making of this one. —Easy Mark

REORGANIZING

A special meeting of the directors of Fasig-Tipton Company was held on October 17 and Tyson Gilpin, president of the company, announced that he and his family would dispose of a large portion of the company's stock. He also stated that he would give up his position as head of the firm. Mr. Gilpin has been president of Fasig-Tipton since the death of his father and while he will continue to hold a substantial interest in the sales group, he will not continue to take the active role which he has for several years. With plans for the reorganization being completed, the announcement was made that Humphrey S. Finney, an officer and field manager for Fasig-

Milwaukee Shamrocks Defeat Meadow Brook In Waterbury Cup

Bill Briordy

The Milwaukee Shamrocks, with Bill Ylvisaker, Ray Harrington, Alan Corey, 8-goal star, and Tom Cross riding in that order, captured the annual Monty Waterbury Memorial Cup handicap polo championship on International Field of the Meadow Brook, Oct. 4, by stopping a Meadow Brook side led by Al Parsells, 7-6, in the final round match.

A gathering of 6,000 saw the Shamrocks stave off a rally in the final minutes of play to take the laurels. The winners received a 2-goal handicap at the start from the 26-goal Meadow Brook side, which had Philip Iglehart, Pete Bostwick, Parsells and Devereux Milburn. This match also served as a benefit affair for the Nassau County Chapter, Boy Scouts of America.

Parsells, top scorer of the game with 5 goals, nullified the 2-goal allowance with two slick first-period goals, the first a backhand, the second a under-the-neck shot from 30 yards out.

Ylvisaker, former Yale star, and Harrington, who has been playing standout polo this season, put Milwaukee ahead to stay in the 2nd chukker with 2 goals each and the 3rd period.

A 60-yard penalty shot by Corey was countered by Parsells in the 4th stanza. Following a scoreless 5th period, Parsells opened the last chapter by splitting the posts on a 40-yarder. But Harrington also made good to make it 7-5 and a late marker by Bostwick cut the Shamrocks' margin to one goal.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 5, Par-

Tipton, will take over as the company's active head. He is also editor of the Maryland Horse and field secretary of the Maryland Horse Breeders' Association. As he plans to eventually devote his full time to the operation of Fasig-Tipton, Mr. Finney has asked for a year in which to wind up his present activities and to develop men to replace him.

STALLION PARADE

For the past several years the Pennsylvania Thoroughbred breeders have been parading their stallions at the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club race meeting. The number of interested breeders and owners continues to increase and this year there were 10 stallions paraded in the infield before the crowd. With Chris Wood, Jr., field director for United Hunts, doing the commentary, Samuel F. Pancoast's Ocor; Henry Cadwalader's Modest Lad; C. Mahlon Kline's Slam Bang; Sydney W. Glass' Colony Boy; Cedar Grove Farm's Bless Me; Daniel J. Kelly's Beau Of Mine; Willard E. Ferrell's Drum Major; Millard F. Heller's Ben R; J. C. Giangulio's Gold Bull and W. Burling Cocks' Peterski were led out. This is certainly one way to show the breeders and prospective breeders what the state of Pennsylvania has to offer in the way of Thoroughbred stallions.

sells, 8-goal ace, who stands an excellent change of receiving a boost in rating by the United States Polo Association, turned in one of his finest games as Brookville beat Bostwick Field, 11 to 6, in the weekly high goal match at Bostwick Field in Old Westbury, L. I.

Parsells, who headed the scorers with 4 markers, and Cross each stroked 3 goals in the last two chukkers to pace a spurt that turned back the Bostwick Field four. This was an action-packed match that produced some of the keenest polo seen on Long Island this season. Most important, the team play of both teams left little to be desired.

The crowd of 2,000 saw the score tied 5 times before Brookville pulled away in the 5th period. At intermission, Brookville enjoyed a 2-goal edge, 5-3, thanks to a shot by Henry Lewis 3d after a 60-yard pass from Parsells, Joe Schwartz' 60-yard drive and Al's cut shot. Schwartz' shot, first one of the third period, made it 3-all.

John Wallace, Ylvisaker, Bostwick and Devereux Milburn did a workmanlike job for Bostwick Field, but the losers just didn't have the defense to stop Parsells and his mates in the last 2 chukkers. Bostwick Field will continue its Sunday polo through October, and then a majority of the players will begin preparations for the opening of the 1952-53 indoor campaign at the Squadron A Armory, Madison Avenue and 94th Street, in November.

At the Blind Brook Club, Purchase, N. Y., Juan Rodriguez sparked the Westchester four to a 11-2 triumph over a Blind Brook side on Oct. 5. This game replaced the scheduled final for the National 12-goal championship. Blind Brook's team of Tommy Glynn, Adie Von Gontard, Cyril Harrison and Jack Crawford became national champion by default when Meadow Brook was unable to field its team.

Harford County Pony Club Members Far Above Average

Adele Davies Rockwell

There is only one affiliated branch of the Pony Club in the United States, the Harford County Branch in Maryland. There is indication that the U.S.A. will soon start the Pony Club movement in a large way and when Americans take something on, they do it well.

I recently returned from examining the Harford County Branch members for A & B Pony Club certificates. Mrs. Dean Bedford, District Commissioner, and her assistants on the local committee, who head the several sub-branches, can feel proud of their youngsters. As a group compared with members of other branches in Canada, the ones I tested and saw ride were far above average.

No previous examinations had been tried in the Branch for A or B certificates. That I was able to pass nine for the B certificate and four for the A speaks well for the boys and girls, some of whom were associate members between 17 and 21 years.

Canada now has 14 branches, the first being started over 16 years ago and to date no more than 20 A certificates have been granted in all that time. The Harford County branch holds the record for having four people pass the A certificate test in the same year, but that good young horsemen have been accumulating age and ability doubtless accounts for this to some extent.

I found those I examined to be sensible caretakers as to their knowledge of feeding and shoeing, some possessed good knowledge of ailments and unsoundness and treatment for some but quite a few did not know the proper terms for equipment, points of the horse, etc., which shows a need for more lectures and instruction. Hardly any knew enough about hunting.

The Pony Club requires knowledge of hunting for the A and B certificates even if children do not come from a hunting country. Of the children who passed the B certificates I felt that they knew enough to get on in the hunting field without causing trouble to themselves or others and that other parts of the examination showed enough ability to make up for lack of knowledge about hunting terms and the science of hunting. I understand that the Branch is planning more visits to kennels and lectures on hunting this year.

The riding was excellent. A few were not strong enough riders yet to pass B and some of the others who did, are very close to the A standard if they could emass a little more finesse on the correct use of the aids. I tried to keep the test as close as the limited time for the examinations would permit, to qualifications required for tests in Canada; taking 70% as the pass mark for B and 85% as the pass mark for A as a guide.

Riding was considered in this total, but regardless of how well members did in different parts of the test, there is a certain standard they must achieve both as to riding and as to knowledge. Although strength in riding may offset lack of knowledge or vice-versa, they must prove to the examiner that their weakest point sufficient merit to make them worthy of the certificate. Actually the A's which were passed averaged a little below 80% but as this was merely used as a guide in summing up ability, I felt they were nevertheless worthy of the certificate.

The Harford County branch is hoping to send a team to the annual Inter-Branch Canadian Rally next year, which is to be held the end of June at Knowlton, Quebec. If they do, Canadian Pony Clubbers will have to watch their step for the American Branch has a lot of very able children to choose from.

Vancouver International

The Vancouver International with in a few years has grown into a show comparable to the Los Angeles International. This show does not seem to be plagued with the usual horse show ills. It is in short, an exceptionally well attended and entertaining sports event.

The "Northstar" Gambler's Stake jumping class, held for the first time this year, was the big hit of the open division. The Portland horse, Charcoal, with Jerry Smith in the saddle, was the winner.

The Repheum "Gary Cooper" Shield went to the jumper Capt. Kid which was the high point of the show. He is owned by C. C. Cross of Kelvin Grove Farms in Alberta and was ridden by Allan Wright. The De Brett trophy for the child winning the most points went to Miss Dianne Black.

The Saturday matinee is planned for children and they were there in droves. The service clubs sponsored the under privileged groups.
